the 1990s, the number of people in the United States who are obese has increased by 50 percent. In 1990, 15 percent of the population was obese, but by 2000, that number had risen to 22 percent. In 2008, the number of obese people in the United States was estimated to be 33 percent. The increase in obesity is a major public health concern because it is a leading cause of heart disease, diabetes, and other chronic diseases. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimates that obesity costs the United States $147 billion each year in medical costs and lost productivity. The CDC also estimates that obesity is responsible for 280,000 deaths each year in the United States. The increase in obesity is a result of a combination of factors, including a sedentary lifestyle, poor diet, and genetic factors. The CDC recommends that people eat a healthy diet, exercise regularly, and maintain a healthy weight to reduce the risk of obesity and its associated health problems.
